

Weekender Magazine - WINE

The Newcastle Herald

August 8, 2009

By John Lewis

WINE JOHN LEWIS

There are some superb Hunter semillons on the market just now and here are some five-star examples.

Brokenwood 2005 Brycefield-Belford Vineyards Semillon, $36

Olive green-tinted straw in the glass, this more developed style semillon has lime blossom and lemongrass scents. Lemon curd flavour features on the front of the palate and subtle kiwifruit and toast and honey elements come through on the middle palate. The finish has flinty acid. It comes from grapes grown at Belford and on the Brycefield vineyard at Lovedale and is available in some wine stores, at the McDonalds Road, Pokolbin, winery and at www.brokenwood.com.au.

